JUDGE WEIGHS COAL MINING INJUNCTION

Dismisses Convictions At Government Request, Delays Other Ruling

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 18 — The civil contempt conviction against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers was dismissed today at the government's request.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, however, took under consideration a government request to end the anti-strike injunction against Lewis and the union.

Goldsborough said the plea for dropping the injunction came as a surprise and he was not prepared to rule on it immediately.

Goldsborough added he is not convinced that there is no danger of a new coal strike.

The injunction was issued by Goldsborough April 21. It replaced a temporary restraining order of April 3.

It was obtained under the Taft-Hartley act to end a six weeks' coal strike, touched off by a dispute over pensions for elderly miners.

In seeking the dismissals, Attorney General Tom Clark informed the court the government felt the pension dispute is being handled appropriately, that the miners are at work and the "public interest is secure."

Lewis and the union were convicted of both civil and criminal contempt for failing to obey a restraining order against a work stoppage.

Delayed Penalty
Lewis was fined $20,000 and the union $1,400,000 on the criminal contempt conviction, but any penalty on civil contempt was held in abeyance.

In seeking dismissal of the anti-strike order Clark told Judge T. Alan Goldsborough the purpose of the government's actions against the miners—resumption of normal production in the mines—has been achieved.

Clark said therefore the government saw no need for continuing the 80-day injunction which Judge Goldsborough issued April 21.

The court action came as Lewis and the soft coal operators began talks on a new contract to replace the present agreement expiring June 30.

Apparently, the court moves are aimed at removing the government from any connection with the contract negotiations.

Speaking for Clark, Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morrison told Goldsborough:

"The sole interest of the United States in this entire proceeding has been, and continues to be, the protection of the public interest in uninterrupted production of bituminous coal, a vital and basic factor in the economy of this nation."

"It now appears that the dispute which gave rise to the concerted walkout of the miners in the bituminous coal is being steadily progressing for legal adjudication; that the miners are back at work; that bituminous coal is being steadily produced; and that the public interest in this case is secure."

The six-week-long work stoppage started March 15 in a dispute over pensions for retired miners. Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH) drew up a compromise providing $100 monthly payments for union members 62 years old or more with 20 years service. Lewis is the union's representative on the miners welfare fund and Bridges is the neutral trustee.

The Lewis-Bridges plan was promptly challenged by Ezra Van Horn, operators' trustee. He sued to block payments contending it was an illegal scheme.

Planes Join Attack

AERIAL WARFARE thundered down on cities of the new state of Israel (diagonal shading) as planes from Egypt attacked waterfront installations at Tel Aviv (1), the capital, Tiberias (2) and towns in its vicinity were also attacked by planes. Haganah reported British troops were machine gunned from the air in southern Palestine, and Egypt reported Jewish strongholds between Gaza and Beersheba (3) suffered air attack. Jewish forces moving north in the Acre area scored a sortie (open arrow) into Lebanon, blowing up a bridge. Invaders were reported entering the Holy Land (black arrow) south of Hama. (International)

CRUCIAL DEBATE SETTLED NOTHING

Stassen-Dewey Radio Debate One for Oregon's Books Today

(By Associated Press)
PORTLAND, Ore., May 18—The crucial debate that settled nothing was one for the Oregon primary books today.

Neither Gov. Thomas E. Dewey nor Harold E. Stassen, Republican presidential aspirants, yielded from his prepared position for or against the holy disputed question whether the Communist party should be outlawed in the United States.

The two met last night to air their clashing views over nationwide radio networks in the best tradition of the classic Lincoln-Douglas debate—and on a similarly burning social question of the day.

On the affirmative, the Minnesota called for a halt to "coddling" Communists, and asked the enactment of new laws to deny Communism "the blessings of legality" under which it is now permitted to worm its way to power.

Branding communists "the threat of war" to America, Stassen said the nation "should not stumble along with laws that are out of date."

Dewey took the position that existing federal laws—"some 27 of them"—were adequate to prosecute criminal Communist undermining of the government.

"I am unalterably, wholeheartedly and unswervingly against any scheme to write laws outlawing people because of their religious, political, social or economic ideas," he declared.

The two presidential contenders met in the comparative privacy of the broadcasting studio before an audience limited to newspaper correspondents, news photographers and newsreel cameramen.

It was the first time they have come face to face in the embattled Oregon primary campaign, which they have waged over the highways and byways of the state.

Both smiled and shook hands when they met in the studio.

"Good evening, Tom," said Stassen. "We've certainly stirred up interest."

"We sure did," said Dewey.

Stalin Likes Henry Wallace's Ideas On Peace, Wants U.S. Talk

BY EDDY GILMORE
A. P. Correspondent

MOSCOW, May 18—Prime Minister Stalin says Russia is willing, if the United States is, to accept Henry A. Wallace's recent "open letter" to him as the foundation for peaceful settlement of Soviet-American quarrels.

In a statement dated yesterday and released by the Soviet press department last night, Stalin replied to proposals made by Wallace at a political rally in New York a week ago today.

"I do not know," Stalin said, in his first public pronouncement in more than a month, "whether the United States government approves of Mr. Wallace's program as a basis for agreement between the U. S. S. R. and the United States."

Feels Good Basis
"As far as the government of the U. S. S. R. is concerned, it considers that Mr. Wallace's program should serve as a good and fruitful basis for such an agreement and for the development of international cooperation."

(In Washington, the White House and the State department withheld official comment.)

(Wallace said in San Francisco he was "very much surprised" that Stalin had answered him, but added: "If I have done anything that moves the world forward toward peace, I feel that my campaign will have been a success.")

Stalin gave a concise summary of Wallace's proposals, which he said "are known to everybody," listing them as follows:

1. "A general reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons."
  2. "Conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan and the question of evacuation of troops from these countries."
  3. "Evacuation of troops from China and Korea."
  4. "Respect for the sovereignty of individual countries and non-interference in their domestic affairs."
  5. "The inadmissibility of military bases in member countries of the United Nations."
  6. "World development of international trade excluding any sort of discrimination."
  7. "In the framework of the United Nations, assistance to and economic restoration of countries which suffered from the war."
  8. "Defense of democracy and insuring of civil rights in all countries; and so on."
- (These are the six objectives toward which Wallace, in his "open letter" said the United States and Russia must take "definite decisive steps.")

(1. "General reduction of armaments—outlawing all methods of mass destruction.

(2. "Stopping the export of weapons by any nation to any other nation."

(3. "The resumption of unrestricted trade (except for goods related to war) between the two countries."

(4. "The free movement of citizens, students and newspapermen between and within the two countries."

(5. "The resumption of free exchange of scientific information and scientific material between the two nations."

(6. "The re-establishment of a re-invigorated UNRRA or the constitution of some other United Nations agency for the distribution of international relief."

Stalin referred to the recent diplomatic exchange between Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and U. S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith only to mention its "inadequacy."

He said that exchange did nothing more than declare "the desirability of settling the Soviet-American differences."

The difference between the Smith-Molotov exchange and Wallace proposals, Stalin said, "consists in the fact that it (Wallace's letter) does not limit itself to a declaration, but goes further, makes a serious step forward and gives a concrete program."

MEAT STRIKERS TURN DOWN BID

Reject Management's Offer of Nine-Cent Boost; Stick To Strike

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 18—CIO meat handlers today turned down a major packer's proposal to end the two-month old meat strike.

As a result, there was a sharp drop in hopes for quick settlement of the violence-marked dispute.

New negotiations broke off shortly after midnight without any announcement of when they may resume. The talks began yesterday.

Swift & Company last night offered three conditions as a basis for settling the nationwide strike which began March 16. The CIO Packinghouse Workers a few hours later rejected the proposal.

Object Discharge Order
The union president, Ralph Helstein, objected specifically to a Swift proposal which he said would let the companies discharge any striking employees.

He said there is "no point talking about any of the rest" of the Swift suggestions—one of them an offer of a nine cent hourly wage increase effective last May 3.

AFL Meat Workers accepted the nine cents offer and did not strike. The CIO union has held out for 29 cents. The present scale paid two thirds of the 100,000 CIO workers as $1.10 an hour or less.

In Iowa, meanwhile, two CIO local unions voted to end their strike with agreements including nine-cent hourly wage increases. At Charles City, Ia., a mob threw rocks and bottles at two homes of workers at a strikebound Decker Company packinghouse in nearby Mason City.

In Chicago, Swift asked that the union order striking employees back to work, that it accept the nine cent offer, and that "employees who were discharged for unlawful acts have the right to process their grievances in accordance with provisions of the existing contract."

Helstein did not comment on the nine cent offer or the back-to-work order suggestions. But he flatly rejected the "discharge clause."

PLAN MISSIONARY CONVENTION HERE

Dr. Willis R. Hotchkiss of Lakewood will be the principal speaker at the first annual missionary convention of the Men's Missionary movement of the First Friends church, which opens at 7:30 p. m. Friday and continues through Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Hotchkiss, author and lecturer, spent approximately 40 years in mission work in Africa. He was one of the first pastors of the First Friends church.

Prof. Richard Chambers of Cleveland will direct the music.

Services will be held at 2:30 and 8 p. m. Saturday and there will be a banquet for the members at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

Dr. Hotchkiss will speak at the worship service Sunday morning and the closing service at 2:30. The sessions are open to the public.

Plans Made For 66th Salem High School Alumni Banquet

Plans for the 66th annual Salem High School Alumni association reunion and banquet Friday, June 4, are being completed by Association President John Mulford and his committees.

The reunion at 6 p. m. and the banquet at 7 will be held in the Masonic temple. A dance, following the dinner will be in charge of Fred E. Cope. Bill Nezheth's orchestra will provide music.

A speaker for the evening has not yet been selected but probably will be a Salem High alumnus.

All members of the 1948 graduating class are invited to attend the banquet as guests of the association.

Vocaleers To Sing For Public Friday At Masonic Temple

A new women's singing group, the "Vocaleers," will make its first public appearance at the Masonic temple Friday evening.

The chorus made its first appearance at the Veterans hospital, Brecksville, and has appeared on regular programs over Station WPAH, Alliance.

Appearing in attractive formal attire, the group specializes in repertoire most popular to the average listener. The chorus is directed by W. Wentz Alsbaugh and includes 23 voices. Mrs. Robert Hammel is accompanist.

Tea will be served after the program.

The Friday program:

- Group I
"Just A Wearyin' for You" (Bond), "Bells of St. Mary's" (Adams), "Love's Old Sweet Song" (Malloy), "Come To The Fair" (Martin), "The Star" (Rogers), "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte), "Desert Song" (Romberg), W. Wentz Alsbaugh, baritone.
- Group II
"British Children's Prayer" (Wolfe), "Prayer Perfect" (Stenson), "Ave Maria" (Gounod), "Green Cathedral" (Hahn), "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" (Ambrose).

"Cisire de lune" (Debussy), "Phantasie" (Schumann), Mrs. Robert Hammel, piano.

Group III
"My Hero" (Strauss), "I Love Little Willie" (Wilson), "Ten Little Indians" (Johnson), "The Whiffenpoof Song" (Minnigerode-Pomeroy-Galloway), "Lullaby" (Brahms).

6 MOTORISTS DRAW FINES IN COURT

Six drivers were arrested Monday for traffic violations, the state highway patrol reported.

Carl Lipsey, 20, of Columbiana, was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Hugh Dickson for passing at an intersection.

Jack Jarrusso, 35, of Pittsburgh, forfeited a $25 bond to Mayor K. T. Gormanly of Columbiana, after being arrested for speeding.

Joseph Mangano, 21, of New Galilee, Pa., was fined $100 and costs by Dickson for driving while intoxicated.

Ernest Reisinger, 23, of 394 Washington ave. was fined $10 and costs by Mayor R. R. Johnson for a stop sign violation.

Clarence Smith, 18, of Lisbon, was fined $5 and costs by Justice Felix Butch of Lisbon for a similar offense.

James Bonner, 43, of East Liverpool, was fined $5 and costs by Butch for driving to the left of the center line.

ACRE NOW IN JEWISH HANDS, AFTER BATTLE

72-Hour Conflict Ends With Arab Surrender Reported Today

(By Associated Press)

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 18—Jewish army sources said the ancient all-Arab town of Acre surrendered unconditionally early today after a 72-hour battle in the streets.

Haganah said earlier it had some 4,000 Arabs trapped in the Old Wall city, eight miles north of the Jewish port of Haifa. The Haganah fighters claimed control of the highway through the city, a link to Jewish settlements in the north.

Acre is just outside the area of Palestine designated as Jewish under the United Nations partition plan.

To the east, Jewish sources in Haifa declared 500 Arabs were drowned when Jews opened a dam and flooded plain lands south of the Sea of Galilee.

Tel Aviv was raided by light bombers just after dawn, for the fourth straight day. The 45-minute attack was the longest yet upon the city. The Jews said they shot down one of the attacking planes and damaged another.

Haganah said one of the attacking pilots crash-landed near Rehovot, 15 miles southeast of Tel Aviv, and was taken into custody by two girl soldiers. They said he identified himself as an Egyptian air force pilot officer. In the first day's air raids Saturday, the Jews also had claimed capture of an Egyptian pilot.

The Haifa informant said Arab armored columns were trapped by the rushing dam waters near Deganya on the southern tip of the Sea of Galilee. The plain lies below sea level in the Jordan valley along the Palestine-Trans-Jordan frontier.

The source said Arab tanks became mired and heavy equipment was trapped by the swirling waters.

From atop the historic hill from which Napoleon once tried unsuccessfully to storm Acre, Jewish commandos swooped down upon the ancient city and penned up an estimated 4,000 Arabs, Haganah said.

Under a protective curtain of fire from the hilltop, a Jewish convoy pushed through the outskirts of the coastal town. The vehicles were hit by only a few bullets. A Jewish commander said it was the first convoy to get through in two months.

The commander said the Jews now hold both sides of the highway through Acre and have smashed into and captured new districts.

6 PERSONS HURT WHEN CARS UPSET

Six persons were injured and two cars damaged in a pair of accidents on Route 14 Monday. Wet, slippery pavement was blamed by the state highway patrol.

A car driven by Dorothy Hobson, 36, of Cleveland, rolled over on Route 14 three miles north of Salem, at 4 p. m. Monday. She suffered a bruised right shoulder, while her father, Joseph Hobson, 71, sustained a bruised mouth and chest. They were treated at the Central Clinic.

A similar accident occurred four miles north of Salem at 11:45 a. m. Monday injuring four members of one family.

The car was driven by Rabbi Nisan Heifetz, 47, of South River, N. J. He suffered contusions and lacerations of the face. His wife, Nomam, 45, had a lacerated head and abrasions.

A son, David, 11, sustained a possible broken wrist, and another son, Mitchell, two and a half years, had bruises and cuts of the hand.

All were treated at the Central Clinic.

Building Repairs Close Two Schools

Friday will be the last day of school for students at the Prospect and McKinley buildings.

The not-so-lucky pupils in other buildings will be dismissed for the year June 4.

Closing of the Prospect and McKinley schools is brought about by the start of construction of new additions to both buildings. Supt. E. S. Kerr announced. Changes are to be made in the present buildings particularly in the heating systems.

In order to have the work completed in the present buildings by the opening of schools next September, the architect and contractors have asked that classes be terminated at the end of this week.

Damage Claim Denied

LISBON, May 18—A verdict in favor of the village of Columbiana was returned by a jury after one hour's deliberation in common pleas court Monday afternoon in the $10,000 damage action filed by Mrs. Vida Thomas of that village, for injuries sustained in July, 1941, when it was alleged she stepped on a catch basin cover which tilted, dropping her into the catch basin.

Backers To Seek C A A Matching Funds For Job

Preliminary Plans For $248,000 Field Made at Meeting Monday; Keener To Give Site North of City

With the site selected and the land donated, air-minded groups in Salem spent most of Monday making preliminary plans to construct a municipal airport with the aid of federal funds.

Private donations will be sought to raise the city's share of the construction cost, and Civil Aeronautics Administration funds are available to match dollar for dollar. Engineers' estimates of this cost have been figured at $218,000.

Total cost, including value of the land, has been placed at $248,000. An effort will be made to raise about $131,500 of this amount in Salem.

Development of plans came quickly following a Chamber of Commerce noonday luncheon meeting in the Lape hotel at which Sam F. Keener announced that he would donate his 200-acre farm six miles north of the city on Route 45 for airport purposes.

Later in the day steps necessary to obtain federal funds were outlined by S. B. Randall, chief engineer of the Ohio Aviation Board, and E. H. Scofield, C. A. A. district airport engineer for Ohio. They had arrived from Columbus too late to attend the noonday meeting.

These officials stated that the Keener farm on the right of the Ellsworth road and immediately south of the Leffingwell road, is the most satisfactory site in the vicinity of Salem. They had previously inspected this and various other possible sites.

To obtain C. A. A. funds it will be necessary, they said, that a municipal airport be constructed and operated. Mayor R. R. Johnson recently appointed an aviation committee comprised of three councilmen, Fred Koenreich, Ned Massa and Carl Abe.

This committee is expected to present the matter to city council tonight and, if acted on favorably, council will authorize the mayor to make application for federal funds.

The city is in no way obligated by such action and can withdraw at any time if it desires or if Salem's share of the money is not raised.

As C. A. A. also will pay one-fourth of the cost of land obtained, a meeting to interest pilots and others in the proposed Salem municipal airport will be held at 8 p. m. Friday in the offices of the Salem Engineering Co.

It is known that about 60 pilots are listed in Salem and all of them, as well as anyone interested in aviation or in the airport project, are invited to this meeting.

Further information may be obtained by calling Nelson Rykes, pilot, at the engineering office.

Keener proposes to give the city $30,000 for the purchase price of the farm. That will entitle the city to $7,500 in federal funds, in addition to funds which may be allocated for construction purposes.

Airport To Be Self-Maintaining
In explaining the need for an airport close to Salem, Keener emphasized to the Chamber of Commerce group that the field would be self-maintaining, thereby involving no operating expense on the part of the city. Income sources would include sale of gasoline and oil, land rentals and certain concessions, such as a restaurant.

The airport would make possible the landing of freight cargo and express planes, he said, with the additional possibility of parcel post and air mail service.

R. W. Petrie, airport engineer of Benton Harbor, Mich., who has designed and constructed several airports in Michigan, gave many figures to show the increasing use of air service not only by passengers, but for quick dispatch of industrial products, mercantile goods, fruits and other farm crops.

A breakdown of estimated construction costs shows: Clearing of fields $3,000, grubbing $3,000, grading $60,000, drainage $30,000, turning $6,000, runway paving $85,000, lighting $15,000, roads $3,000, auto parking $1,000, engineering and supervision $12,000. These are preliminary estimates and some may be shaved later.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting was attended by about 75 business men and manufacturers who indicated practically unanimous approval of the airport project.

Public Invited To Pupil Exhibits At High School

The Salem High school industrial Arts show scheduled for Thursday and Friday in the High school gym will feature informative exhibits in wood and metal working, mechanical drawing, art and foods.

At 8:15 p. m. Thursday the clothing classes will stage their fourth annual spring style show in the auditorium.

The public is invited to view the exhibit in the afternoon and evening and to enjoy the style parade in the evening. The exhibits will open at 2 each afternoon.

On Friday the annual High school chorus concert at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium will climax the week.

Seventy-five mechanical drawing students, taught by Miss Ada Hanna, will exhibit drawings of work done through the year, along with blueprints made from the tracings. This course for freshmen is a preliminary requirement for engineering or further study in wood or metalworking.

J. O. Hagedorn, teacher of the woodworking classes, plans to show a number of desks, end tables, lamps, bowls and bookends which have been the projects of his students. The boys use walnut, mahogany, maple and cedar which they purchase, making the complete article.

The metal industries laboratory interests boys in machine shop work, forge and heat treatment, foundry and casting.

Aggression Against Palestine

Strife in Palestine must be considered under two headings—strife of internal and external origin. There is perhaps nothing that could stop the former, except resumption of the British occupation. Hatreds run so deep that when the British occupation held them in only tenuous check, and the British have withdrawn.

But there is something that could stop strife of external origin. The hostile territories surrounding Palestine could be warned that if they continue to furnish troops and supplies for use against the Jews in Palestine, the governments they rely on for income will put duty above expediency.

Specifically, they could be warned that there are more important things in international relations than crude oil; that a war of aggression against the new state of Israel isn't worth all the oil in the Near East. It would be, temporarily at least, a sacrifice but the kind of sacrifice that devotion to peace demands. Appeasement in the Near East, for the sake of petroleum, appeasement anywhere else.

Unions and Inflation

Replying to the Ford Motor Co's announcement that it seeks lower wage rates and is unwilling to grant further increases demanded by United Auto Workers, spokesmen for the latter say they'll withdraw all demands if the company will bring about a substantial rollback in the cost of living.

Unfortunately, the Ford Co. can't do that. It was one of the first manufacturers to try to reduce the price of its products, but the reduction didn't stick. Continued increases in cost of production forced it and all other auto manufacturers to raise prices.

The only way to bring about a rollback in the cost of living is by cooperation, starting with the powerful labor unions that dictate the level of wage rates. Wages are the main factor in determining prices. There can be no price stabilization and certainly no price reduction while wages are rising, unless the rise is offset by more efficient production.

Union leaders and management share the same problem. It is how to produce things at a price the public can pay. The public, of course, includes the same union members who complain about high price yet help to make them higher by asking for still further inflation in wage rates.

If the Ford Co. and its union could get together—if they could agree to stabilize wage rates—that would be a long step forward. The alternative is more inflation for them, more inflation for everybody.

Lady Spy

Sgt. James M. McMillin, who renounced his American citizenship and fled with a lady spy assigned to find out what he knew as a member of the United States embassy staff in Moscow, has disgraced himself. But it's hard to condemn him.

The State department admits the sergeant was in the hands of an expert. The same lady once lured another American into disgrace in the same way. He escaped, after marrying her, and is in a position to know what Sgt. McMillin was up against.

Any fiction reader can supply the details . . . beauty, charm, savoir faire and plenty of money . . . long, graceful fingers in Sgt. McMillin's hair while he carried on tinkling conversation, giving away whatever little secrets he knew . . . a feeling of well-being in the lady's presence . . . a conviction that never did the course of true love run so smooth . . . the trap unseen until the jaws snapped . . . and even then an unwillingness to believe that one so lovely could be so cruel. Ah . . .

As long as governments are going to spy on each other, it's easier to be reconciled to the mischief of lovely lady operatives than to the grim and unlovely characters that usually show up in the dragnets.

Censorship Dangers

BY JAMES THRASHER

During the war, the American press operated under purely voluntary censorship, even though some of its members possessed information that was vital to the nation's security and the success of its armed forces.

Now, in time of peace, the House Rules Committee has approved a proposal to impose censorship on certain information, and to punish a reporter who violates that censorship with a $1000 fine and a year's imprisonment. The author of this piece of legislation is Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan.

The censorship provision is part of a bill which grew out of the charges against Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the National Bureau of Standards. The Thomas Committee wanted a letter from FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover pertaining to Dr. Condon's chief investigation. President Truman refused the request.

The bill would permit a congressional committee to demand any confidential information by a majority vote of its members, countersigned by the Speaker of the House or the President of the Senate. At the same time, a majority vote could classify any information a committee possessed as confidential.

This is both unwise and unrealistic. The custom of "leaking" information to the press from closed sessions of committees or conferences is not only old and accepted, but generally valuable. For example, the public was kept informed through "leaks" of the progress of some of the Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco Conference meetings that produced the United Nations. And the Yalta agreement on the veto in the yet unborn UN was also made public through a "leak."

As for Congress itself, a disclosure of progress in the private hearings on a bill can be valuable to the members as well as to the public. A running summary of "confidential" proceedings in the press lets the committee members know the public reaction to what they are doing. This gives them some idea of the sources of support, trends of opinion, and so on, that they would not otherwise have until the bill was delivered for its vacuum of secrecy.

But, most of all, this bill of Mr. Hoffman's, if passed, would set a dangerous precedent of concealment that is out of place in a democracy. Every Congress, unfortunately, seems to have its share of stupid, bigoted, and "kept" members. This power of censorship would apply to them, if enough were on one committee to exercise it, as well as to the responsible statesmen.

The members of Congress are elected by the people to make laws for the conduct of the people's government. They are engaged in the public business and, with a few exceptions, should operate publicly. When their activities in time of peace concern the national security—as perhaps in the field of atomic energy—we think that the press can be trusted to safeguard that security.

"The press," says Mr. Hoffman, "has no all-inclusive right and privilege of disclosing information that is detrimental to the country." It might be answered that Congress has no all-inclusive right and privilege to withhold information from the country at the caprice of some of its members.

We trust that the whole House will make short work of Mr. Hoffman's would-be legal sanction of further secrecy and irresponsibility in government.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, May 19

THE planetary aspects in certain particulars sound warning to move cautiously and prudently in those affairs in which all sorts of assets, possessions and funds as well as personal desires, hopes and wishes, are in flagrant jeopardy. Snares, connivance and trickery are aimed at deep-rooted strata for success and happiness.

Alert, adroit grasp of this, with shrewd and determined attack upon subtlety and malice, dragging them into the open, could begot rich rewards, albeit with change of plans, perhaps fresh environs and associates. Act quickly to this end.

Those whose birthday it is are admonished to safeguard all possessions, assets, plans, hopes and objectives, from a sinister, pernicious and tricky onslaught, especially in false promises, plans and deals, in which hidden undercurrents should be dragged to the front and summarily dealt with.

The mind is alert and clever, equipped for determined attack, and the character grounded on principle and right purpose for ultimate success and happiness.

A child born on this day may have hidden and treacherous situations to deal with, being subject to fraud and imposition.

Its mental and moral makeup, however, is able to uncover and cleverly, circumspectly and intriguingly plots against its happiness.

Similar Symptoms Make Job Difficult

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Nowhere, not even at a twins convention, are there more "look alikes" than in the world of medicine. One disease can imitate another so perfectly as to "fool the experts," unless a very thorough examination is made.

One of these traditional "foolers" is a bowel disorder due to what are known as diverticula, which can, on occasion, duplicate either the symptoms of gallstones or those of stomach ulcer.

Walls Become Weakened

Sometimes the walls of the first part of the bowel known as the duodenum become weakened and, as a result a little out-pouching occurs, such as may develop in a weak spot in an automobile tire.

These out-pouchings are called diverticula.

Such diverticula may be present without causing symptoms. However, in most cases, they do cause trouble, and, as I said earlier, the symptoms may be much like those of other digestive disorders.

Pain and Tenderness

These symptoms consist of pain and tenderness in the abdomen, sickness at the stomach, and diarrhea.

The pain may be in the right lower part of the abdomen. It may pass to the back or at times into the right shoulder.

The pain is apparently made worse by eating. In some cases, nausea or sickness at the stomach may accompany the pain or may occur at other times.

Now and then the diverticula press on the bile duct which empties into the intestine and, as a consequence, the flow of bile is blocked, resulting in jaundice or a greenish-yellow discoloration of the skin, so suggestive of gallstones.

In themselves, these symptoms are not typical of the disease, and hence, a decisive diagnosis cannot be made on the symptoms alone.

Definite Diagnosis

In order to make a definite diagnosis of the diverticula, X-ray examination is required. The X-ray examination should include the entire gastro-intestinal tract and especially the gallbladder.

Once the diverticula have been discovered in the X-ray plate, the doctor will decide whether or not they are responsible for the trouble because, as I have stated, not all diverticula cause symptoms.

When the diagnosis is certain, and it has been determined that the diverticula are responsible for the symptoms, an operation for their removal is sometimes advised.

Where the patient is in such poor condition that an operation cannot be carried out, medical measures.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

such as the use of a bland diet, the giving of mineral oil, and lying on the side after meals, are carried out. The bland diet is one which contains no highly-seasoned or bulky foods.

Diverticulitis is usually not a serious disorder, but when diagnosed it should receive prompt treatment along accepted lines.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. C.: If a large lump appeared in the breast during pregnancy and in a few months disappeared after nursing, what would be the reason?
Answer: The swelling might be due to a cyst or, possibly, to a blocked milk duct. The latter is the most probable cause.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

Investigate Strange Death

NEW PHILADELPHIA, May 18 — Tuscarawas County Coroner D. M. Ceramella continued his investigation today of the pistol death of Fred E. Selbert. Selbert, a construction worker, died in a hospital yesterday several hours after he was found wounded in his car on Route 16, two miles south of here. A German luger pistol was found on the floor of the car.

GRAIN ELEVATOR WILL BE BUILT

50,000 Bushel Storage Is Planned By Columbiana
Milling Company

COLUMBIANA, May 18 — Contracts have been let by the Columbiana Milling & Supply Co. for the construction of four grain elevators with a capacity of 50,000 bushels on the property along the Pennsylvania railroad as the first units in an expansion program.

The elevators will be situated just west of the mill, and will be the same height, four stories, or some 60 feet. They will be equipped with a truck dump to handle grain directly from trucks for the accommodation of growers in this area. The only other grain elevators within a wide area are at Canton and Loudonville.

The milling company's premises extend along the railroad from the mill on Elm st. to S. Main st., including the four-story warehouse on Main st.

The Sponseller Construction Co. of Salem has the contract for the elevator bases, and the Neff & Fry Co. of Camden, O., will erect the bins.

The milling company has appointed Everett George foreman of its feed grinding and mixing department. Mr. George has had special training with the McMillan Feed Mills of Decatur, Ind.

In connection with the expansion program, Superintendent J. D. Puchs of the eastern division of the Pennsylvania railroad, in company with the industrial agent and a representative of the engineering department, was in conference here recently with the mill officials regarding improved switching facilities. The present long switch for the interchange with the Y. & S. railway serves the milling company, the Franklin Furniture Co. and the Columbiana Pump Co. necessitating moving and replacing spotted cars in making transfers. The railroad company is considering the feasibility of another connecting switch east of the present one.

Church Fund Grows
Subscription and cash payments to the fund campaign for the proposed new church and Sunday school building of Jerusalem Lutheran congregation totaled $35,100 at the end of last week.

The amount is exclusive of a trust fund of $20,000 already in hand. The organized fund campaign will conclude next Friday, but subscriptions will continue to be received until an amount is realized to justify starting the building project.

Button Club Meets
Youngstown, Girard, Struthers, Poland and Columbiana were represented at a meeting of the Mahoning Button club Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cornelia Hyland in Columbiana. Ray Lawrence of Youngstown gave a talk on "Old Buttons," and there were exchanges by the collectors.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held Saturday, June 19, at the home of Mrs. May Fisher in Girard.

The Columbiana Youngs will play the Wickliffe Club of Youngstown at the park Wednesday evening at 8.

ning at 8. Salem Amvets beat the Youngs 6 to 4 Sunday afternoon.

Farewell Services Set

Rev. Paul T. Rueckwald will preach his farewell sermons next Sunday morning to the congregations of the Columbiana - New Waterford parish, and will move his family about June 1 to the parish he is to serve at Zellenople, Pa. Rev. Rueckwald has been here about three years.

There will be a farewell reception by the two congregations in Jerusalem church Monday evening for the Rueckwald family. Rev. J. D. Muller, of Petersburg will be the speaker.

A parish pulp committee has been named, Walter Messersmith, Randall Glenn, Arthur Hickman, Paul Wilms, Carl Souder and Fred Liston representing Jerusalem church, and Albert Schmidt, Alvin Yarian, Elmer Miller, and Andrew Bretz representing Zion church, New Waterford.

Philo class of the Methodist church will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Allen Merreot, Union st.

LISBON BRIEFS

Before an altar of white spirea and candelabra, Miss Rita Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, W. Pine st., became the bride of John Snyder, Jr., son of John Snyder, and Mrs. Ruth Snyder, Sherman st. in the Presbyterian church at 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Rev. C. L. Cope, pastor of the Methodist church officiated at the ceremonies in open church.

Mrs. Vernon Duke, organist, played the pre-nuptial music and Byron Griffith, uncle of the groom, sang "At Dawning," "Because," and "Through the Years."

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Foster, and ushers were James Smith, brother of the bride and Ronald Johnson, nephew of the groom.

The bride has been employed as clerk in the sheriff's office four years while Mr. Snyder, who served in the Marine Corps during the war is a clerk-carrier at the Lisbon post-office.

There aren't enough technically trained college men to go around these days, says H. N. Muller, Westinghouse educational department manager. He predicts the technical manpower shortage will last well into 1949 or 1950.

Psychological Talk
Using for his theme, "Adventures in the Supernatural," Prof. Halliday gave an entertaining and informative talk relating to psychology and also ironed out some of the myths in the mystical.

The professor explained the three basic types of psychologists as (1) clinicians; (2) industrial and (3) educational.

"The clinicians, usually connected with a college or university, deal with intelligence and personality problems and may specialize in child, adult or marriage counseling.

"Industrial psychologists concern themselves with the selection and training of personnel; with research on advertising; problems in public opinion and market analysis and labor relations.

"Educational psychologists are primarily interested in developing a consciousness in teachers of the necessity for paying attention to the emotional and personality needs of a child."

At the conclusion Mrs. Willman turned the gavel over to Mrs. H. D. Huttenhower, new president, who gave brief remarks.

Artistic groupings of vari-colored spring blossoms, with which spirals were used profusely, made the charming decorations throughout the room.

On the speakers table was an unusual candle board arrangement of four tall white tapers, double narcissus, lilies of the valley, iris and ivy. Place cards were designs of lilies of the valley and the favors were small potted plants in multi-colored tinsel wrappings.

Mrs. J. W. Hanna, president of the Leornians; Mrs. R. R. Cuthbert, president of the Salem Garden club; Mrs. R. R. Miller, vice president of the Youngstown region of the Garden Club of Ohio, Inc.; Mrs. Homer S. Taylor, president of the Salem Music Study club; Miss Gertrude Butera, retiring president of the Business and Professional Women's club, and its new president, Miss Ruth Cosgrove, and Miss Hazel Lynn, president of the Quota club, were special guests.

'A Mother's Vigil'

Mrs. Julia Brock, of Santa Monica, Calif., nurses her 20-year-old daughter, Mrs. Ann Marie Cox, as she sleeps through her 96th consecutive day without awakening. She was injured in a motorcycle accident last Feb. 8 and has been in a sleeping coma ever since. At the time doctors gave her 24 hours to live, Mrs. Brock has kept a ceaseless vigil over her daughter and prays for a miracle to restore the girl's health.

Erma Fryfogle Sunday Bride

Miss Erma Fryfogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fryfogle of R. D. 2, Beloit, selected her birthday anniversary for her wedding day, when she was married to Ray Bauman, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bauman, of R. D. 2, Beloit, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Bethel Evangelical & Reformed church, near Alliance. Custom of open church was observed.

Rev. Stanley Hartmann, pastor, officiated in the single ring ceremony as the couple stood before the altar which was lighted by white candles in seven-branch candelabra, amid an embankment of palms and ferns.

Mrs. Kenneth Allison, cousin of the groom, presented the musical prelude, and Mrs. Ernest Mercer, cousin of the bride, sang the love melodies.

Miss Lela Fryfogle was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Andrew Herbert, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Edward Liebhart, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Lloyd Oswald was best man and Harold Oswald and Andrew Herbert acted as the ring bearers.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside on R. D. 2, Beloit, the groom having taken over the operation of his father's farm.

Boy Honored At Birthday Party

Lani Walwaile, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Walwaile of the Franklin rd., with the help of 16 school friends, celebrated his birthday with an outdoor party Saturday afternoon at his home.

Games were enjoyed by the guests, with toy guns being awarded the best hunters in the contest.

Balloons and individual favors made the refreshment table attractive, when lunch was served by the hosts. Lani received many gifts.

Miss Theda Greenawalt of Highland Park Mich. spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Greenawalt, Maple st.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—This is an outline of the bill which the house is expected to pass in a bid to cripple, if not wreck the Communist party.

It can't become law unless the senate also approves — it may not — and the President signs it. The bill is to be complicated to give more than just the highlights here.

This bill does not outlaw the Communist party. If it did and became law the Supreme Court might throw it out as unconstitutional.

So the house un-American activities committee wrote this bill carefully to permit the Communist party to exist, but under rigid limits.

Neither the American Communist party nor Russia is mentioned by name in the bill. But both are meant.

The language of the bill is such in spots that some of its critics think it may be more far-reaching than appears on the surface.

They say for example: That it invades civil liberties and may even apply to labor unions.

THE WHOLE BILL is based on three ideas which the committee members say can be proved in court if it becomes law and is tested:

1. That there's a world conspiracy to set up Communist governments everywhere — if necessary, by force and violence.

2. Such governments are "totalitarian dictatorships" because they mean absolute rule by one party — the Communist party — for the party and the government are one and the same things.

3. Communist organizations everywhere are part of this world conspiracy which is directed and controlled by Russia.

Supposing the bill became law, this is how it would work:

The attorney general investigate, holds hearings, and decides the American Communist party is part of a world conspiracy, under foreign control.

The party can appeal to the courts. If the courts uphold the attorney general, then—

The party leaders must register, giving their names and addresses and the correct names and addresses of all their members.

If they don't register, or give incorrect names, they can be fined $5,000 and jailed for five years.

Party members themselves don't have to register or make their membership known. It's up to their leaders to do that for them.

If the party is ordered to register, but doesn't, then anyone who remains a member of the party violates the law.

But say the party registers and the attorney general has all the names and addresses of the officers and members. Then—

The Communist party can still exist and the officers and members can go on talking about Communism but—

They can be jailed for 10 years, fined $10,000 and lose their citizenship if—

1. They urge the overthrow of this government by force or violence. (Communists now deny they do that.)

2. Or urge setting up here a totalitarian dictatorship under the control of a foreign power.

SO APPARENTLY it would be all right for the party to urge a dictatorship of the proletariat, or workers, arrived at by democratic means if the dictatorship would not be under foreign control.

But it's hard to imagine any American Communist, who sought wide support here, ever suggesting overthrowing this government so Russia could be boss here, with or without this bill.

But what of Communist-front organizations, groups set up to help the Communist party here or Communism abroad.

The same procedure by the attorney general, as in the case of the Communist party. In their case, though, only the leaders names would be registered, not the members' names.

But any Communist-front members—in fact, anyone at all—could be jailed for 10 years, fined $10,000 and lose his citizenship if—

He took part in a Communist conspiracy to set up here a totalitarian dictatorship under control of a foreign power.

A party member could seek election to a government job—like congress or the presidency—but he'd have to make known his party membership. No party member could hold a non-elective government job, like clerk or janitor.

It would be unlawful for any party member to try to get a passport out of the country. And it would be unlawful for anyone to give such a person a passport, knowing he was a Communist.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICE No. 63388 In the District Court of the United States, for the Northern District of Ohio, Eastern Division in Bankruptcy.

In the matter of LEONARD WADSWORTH FREZZELL, 477 E. State St., Debtor.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—did you know what in digestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach" and the ever-changing blood need help. Now you may again release that stored energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh all over, no hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

"Interested-in-YOU" Service

THE philosophy of this Prescription Pharmacy may be summed up in our considered belief that you are the most important person in our world. Your wishes, your needs, your prescription, have our undiverted attention from the moment you pass that fragment of mystic prescription over to our side of the counter. Here you observe in actual daily practice a type of simple, sincere, "Interested-in-YOU" service. It's a service that is dedicated to your welfare all the way from the selection and careful compounding of pure ingredients to the final price tag. Yes, admittedly, it is a selfish service which we give. For we know that only by serving you ably and honorably can we hope to build for us an enduring place in this community.

We invite you to test the facilities of this Pharmacy of "Prescription Specialists" in any practical manner. By all means, do ask your Physician about us.

LAUSCHE HEAD OF DEMOCRATS IN STATE NOW

All Party Groups Climb Aboard Bandwagon As Party Reorganizes

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, May 18 — Ex-Gov. Frank J. Lausche emerged today as the dominant figure in Ohio's Democratic party.

The tousel-haired Cleveland, fresh from a convincing rout of Ray T. Miller in a bitter gubernatorial nomination race, handpicked the party's central committee officers yesterday.

His bandwagon creaked as Miller supporters jumped aboard.

Lausche's choice for state chairman—Eugene H. Hanhart of Dover—won without opposition. Mrs. Lena Siferd of Lima, one of Miller's most outspoken supporters in the primary, seconded Hanhart's nomination.

John W. Powers of Youngstown was named vice-chairman, Miss Mary Gallagher of Ironton, secretary, and Miss Mary McGowan of Akron, treasurer to complete an entirely new central committee.

Then Lausche was escorted to the committee room. He extended "A warm handclasp to all of those who agreed with me and to those who disagreed with me."

It was the first state committee meeting Lausche attended since entering state politics four years ago.

Political observers regarded his appearance as meaning the committee now has met his concept of a political organization "to serve the people and only the people."

Lausche long has fought those he describes as "professional political bosses."

Lausche, who faces Republican Incumbent Thomas J. Herbert in the fall, said he was confident of victory.

Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, state chairman the past six years, announced before the meeting he would not seek re-election. Horstman and most other party leaders favored Miller.

Hanhart, and the other state committee officers with the exception of Miss McGowan, were named to similar position on the executive committee. John Elder of Cleveland was named executive committee treasurer.

In the past two years, the 44-member state committee also made out the executive committee. Yesterday, the state committee decided to have 35 other leading Democrats serve with it on the executive committee.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—The United Nations is losing its biggest drawing card this summer with the departure of Andrei Andreyevich Gromyko, the "oldest young man in the world."

Lake success won't be quite the same without the black-browed Russian delegate, a boy wonder of the diplomatic world. Perhaps no man his age in history ever said "no" on more major issues in so short a time.

He put his "noes" into the record so often that even the news chroniclers are mixed up in the box score. One morning newspaper here put the total at 23. Another credited him with 22. Gromyko, who set the Soviet pattern with the first veto, delivered in London.

Gromyko — whose nickname "Grom" means "Thunder" in his own language—merely announced he was going home to Moscow for his first vacation in three years. Other diplomats here believe, however, his departure may signal his elevation to an even higher policymaking status in the Soviet structure.

At 38 Gromyko already has behind him a brilliant career in world diplomacy, most of it spent in the United States. He came here first in 1939 as counselor to the Russian embassy in Washington. In 1943 he became ambassador himself, perhaps the youngest man—only 34—ever to represent a major power here.

He replaced the veteran and friendly Maxim Litvinoff, and some observers at the time saw in his appointment a cooling off of the Soviet union's relations toward the western powers. Little has happened since to dispel that belief. Diligent and aloof, "The Grom" became a standout attraction of the United Nations sessions after he took his famous walk during the Security Council's deliberation of the Iranian problem.

The first question nine out of 10 visitors to Lake Success asked was:

"Can we see Gromyko?" And they also came to ask: "Will he give a veto today?" It was always an occasion when he said no. Sometimes he did it with a clipped "nyet." Sometimes he did it with a 40-minute address, delivered either in English or Russian, in a deep, bear-bass voice rumbling with a tone of ancient wrong. Society matrons and bobby-soxers waylaid him in the corridors to get his autograph. These attentions at first annoyed him but began to amuse him—and at the same time vexed a number of delegates from other countries.

GROMYKO's taciturnity thawed somewhat outside the Council hall, but there was no relaxation of his iron mood in debate. His vetoes continued. Suspicious and often critical of the American press, Gromyko now and then has joked with newsmen assigned to the United Nations. Once, after he had declined comment on several questions, a reporter said lightly:

"Well, Mr. Gromyko, maybe you can answer this. Where can I get some vodka?"

Gromyko, who drinks scotch and soda himself, smiled and said: "In Brooklyn there is very good vodka."

The Soviet deputy foreign minister has lived well here. He has living quarters in a swank apartment house in Manhattan's upper east side and also a 40-acre mansion in Long Island taken over by the Russian delegation. Gromyko likes to read Mark Twain and also has become something of an American movie fan. His favorite film:

"Gone With The Wind."

You knew

the moment you saw it—this was your car. New, all-new, every inch and pound of it. A big, brawny frame under a sweeping, curved-arch silhouette. Longer, wider, lower—with a road-hugging look that beckoned you to get in and go! When you saw it, you said "This is it! This ALL-NEW 1949 Mercury is for me!"

You heard

the proud, soft-spoken, 8-cylinder, V-type engine murmuring gently. You'd heard that sound before. Where? In cars far beyond your budget's reach. But here it was in an engine designed and built exclusively for Mercury... and in a choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

You held

the wheel easily, because Mercury didn't "wind-wander," didn't "over-steer." Its sure-footed balance and down-to-earth roadability let you hold all roads securely. Its new, bigger, super-balloon tires let you skim over the bumps without a tremor.

You touched

the brake pedal—just a slight touch—and Mercury's new super-brakes brought you gliding to a swift, sure stop. It was then you knew for sure that Mercury had made an all-new car—from top to tires—for you! Your car had finally come along. It was Mercury!

Someday your car had to come along...

You sat

in a wide, "comfort-zone" seat that shaped itself to you—above all-new, road-smoothing spring suspension. You filled the car with a controlled flow of fresh, filtered air from the leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control." This was the comfort you wanted in your car. This was Mercury.

DEPT. OF INFORMATION

Apparently Salem has a lot of auto-racing fans. So, at least, the officials over at the Canfield track inform us. Right in that line, Salem apparently has developed an unsung hero in the person of Mike Lesick.

Mike, whose brother Steve is also in the racing game, is currently rated second in the nation among the stock-car drivers. He holds the world's half-mile stock car record, established in 1947, and is driving about twice a week on the leading tracks in Ohio under auspices of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

Lesick, pictured here in his Ford V-8 car of 1946 vintage, has been at the racing business for a number of years. His brother, Steve, still does some driving although he is principally interested now in his job as chairman of the technical committee of the Ohio Speedway association.

The stock car races differ from midgets and the large auto groups in that all the automobiles used are of the common "stock" variety. Drivers operate the vehicles which contain motors from regular automobiles. Body styles, of course, are cut down and altered to suit the racing needs. The motors, in all cases, are considerably "souped up," however.

The races in which Lesick regularly appears are run on half-mile, or larger tracks, located in Ohio at Berea, and Norwalk. Lesick is scheduled to appear at Dover May 23 and at Berea on May 30.

ODDS AND ENDS

With track season all over but the shouting, Faculty Manager Fred E. Cope at the High school will now turn his talents to completing the 1948-49 basketball schedule. Cope has had some troubles in lining up opponents, but hopes to finish the slate soon.

Graduation this June won't hit Coach Ben Barrett's football squad too severely, although the replacing job on the line will again be somewhat of a task. Among the most notable veterans leaving are Half-backs Lee Ward and a flock of top-notch linemen. Bob Miller's basketball varsity, of course, loses Bob Payer, Carl Clecozzi, Virgil Kelly, Pete Cain. A telling blow. . . all will be hard to replace. . .

The softball scene is growing more interesting daily. The upset of the Diner so early in the year proves that a lot of the new outfits are going to be big question marks on the picture. . . Howdy Kerr, the "sluggish" guy in the National loop two years ago, pounded out a terrific homer the other night. . . Kerr hits one of the hardest balls in the league. . .

YOUNGSTER STIRS BASEBALL SCOUTS TO JUNE ACTION

Georgia Hurler Certain To Get Diploma, Contract All At Once In June

BY CHARLES BARNETT

THOMASTON, Ga., May 18—This small mid-Georgia town claims baseball's kid sensation of 1948—a high school pitcher who strikes out so many men his fielders pinch themselves to stay awake.

The youngster is Hugh Frank Radcliffe, who recently set a world record by fanning 28 batters in a single nine-inning game. To date Radcliffe has whiffed 140 batters in 54 2/3 innings this year—about 2.5 strikeouts per inning.

He has pitched two no-hitters and two one-hitters in six games. His earned run average is something less than $22 per inning.

Baseball scouts are pouring into Thomaston. Talent hunters from at least a dozen major league clubs, and many more from the minors, have watched the 19-year-old operate.

Not since the early days of Bob Feller and Schoolboy Rowe, fans here say, has a kid stirred such a furor. The scouts agree that Radcliffe undoubtedly will get his High school diploma in one hand this June and a fat contract in the other.

They are forbidden, though, from bidding for his services until he graduates.

Around Thomaston, the big event in Radcliffe's record was those 28 strikeouts in nine innings. The opposition was big Lanier High in Macon. Twenty-eight strikeouts, of course, is one more than needed to retire, all the batters singled-handedly from the mound. Radcliffe's catcher couldn't handle one of his fast drops and the runner beat it out to first on a third strike.

Only 10 batters touched the ball, and seven of the knocks were foul. That left only three balls tapped within the playing field by Lanier all afternoon. One of these was scored a hit.

The other two men reached first on errors, but nobody blamed the fielders. They had watched Radcliffe pitch for seven innings, without handling a ball.

Radcliffe is six-foot, one-and-a-half inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. His coach, J. E. Richards, says the young pitcher is amazingly unimpressed by the praise heaped upon him. Radcliffe remains in per-

QUINN SAYS CARDS ARE TEAM TO BEAT

BOSTON, May 18—Frankly referring to his own club as "pennant contenders," Boston Braves General Manager John Quinn today selected the St. Louis Cardinals as the team to beat but emphasized "there isn't a real soft touch in the league."

Back from an unsuccessful trip during which he sought trades with the seven other National League clubs, Quinn said of the Redbirds, currently leading the circuit: "They have the pitching in addition to top players at other positions. They started off well and they're rough. That Nippy Jones (St. Louis first baseman) is proving to be a good ball player."

The Cincinnati Reds will be "better after Ewell Blackwell gets going," added Quinn.

Have Really Hit Stride Since Bad Streak Early In Season; Crush Bums

BY JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
They may gape in awe at the wonderful St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff.

They may gape in awe at the New York Giants' devastating power. They may admire and envy Brooklyn's depth with its youth and speed. The solid team in the National League, however, is the Boston Braves.

Boston is not in first place. The Braves are third, but only because they got off to a miserable start. They dropped six of their first seven games.

Since then Boston has won 11 and lost four, the best record by far, in the circuit for the period. Billy Southworth's men haven't lost since May 9.

They open a 14-game home stand tonight, boasting the league's No. 1 pitcher in Bill Voiselle, No. 2 batter in Tommy Holmes, the best fielding percentage of any club in the circuit, and a four-game winning streak.

The Braves ended a successful road trip last night by crushing the Dodgers in Brooklyn, 12-3. It marked their fourth straight win over Brooklyn without a setback. It also gave them a record of eight victories in 11 road games.

No team in the league—and that includes the Cardinals—boasts three front line hurlers such as Boston's Johnny Sain, Warren Spahn and Voiselle. This trio has given up only three runs in Boston's last four games.

Another hot club, the Philadelphia Phils, defeated the New York Giants 7-1. The victory moved the Phils up to fourth place, only three percentage points behind the Braves.

Johnny Blatnik paced the Phils' 10-hit attack against Bobo Newsom and three successors. The rookie outfielder, picked up in the draft last fall cracked three hits in four times up to wrest the league's batting leadership from Boston's Tommy Holmes with .438 to .435. He has hit safely in nine consecutive games.

Those were the only games scheduled in the majors.

Henry "Snow" Flakes Seems To Be Up And Coming Boxer

BY OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, May 18 — Regardless of who wins the Joe Louis-Jersey Joe Walcott battle for the heavyweight crown, Father Time was rapidly overhauling both of them today and the future book listed increasing interest in a youngster named Henry Flakes—who started by kayaking his father.

Every once in a while along comes a fighter who is both promising and phonetically intriguing. Such were Elmer (Violent) Ray, Gus (Pell) Mell, Willie (Bing) and Owne (Old Man) Moase. Henry can claim admission to the clan. They call him, naturally, "Snow" Flakes.

But the Buffalo youngster, by way of Opelika, Ala., and Chattanooga, Tenn., has more than a phoneticism to recommend him. In a little more than a year he has proved rather conclusively that he can fight—and the road stretches far ahead.

He started in February, 1947, as a $40 preliminary boy. This Friday night he moves into Madison Square Garden for a feature bout against Lee Oma, the poor man's Maxie Baer. There's a reason for Henry's rapid rise. He has won 18 of 19 professional bouts, half of them by knockouts. He lost his fourth pro fight because he was cut.

This year he has come like whirlwind in the stretch. First he defeated Pat Comiskey and then, to prove it was no fluke, he kayoed the Irish giant. In his last start he knocked out Oma, so gets a return bout Friday.

Flakes, like Louis, was born in an Alabama cotton picker's cabin. When he was very young his family moved to Chattanooga and it was there that the father, a fight fan, started to teach his four sons the rudiments of fistfighting. They couldn't afford gloves. So the elder Flakes used burlap bagging, stuffed with rags and gathered at the wrists with rope, the sessions then proceeded in the back yard.

There came a night, however, when the lessons ceased abruptly. Henry threw a right cross which stretched the old man cold for 10 minutes.

Like Beau Jack, Ray and other Negro fighters who came out of the south, "Snow's" next step was to compete in battle royal. Then, by falsifying his age, he got into the Navy and was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs struck.

On his nose is a scar suffered when a Jap plane crashed on the deck of the Nassau, a converted airplane carrier, that fateful Sunday.

"That was the only time in my life I've been knocked out," Henry explained.

Winding up at Buffalo, Flakes decided to give the pro fight game a whirl. Meanwhile, in the intervening years, he had filled out his long frame until it carried a solid 198 pounds. His progress was rapid.

Exceptionally fast on his feet, Henry also is a good, solid puncher. As Oma explained: "He'll make trouble for anybody."

On top of that, there isn't too much around in heavyweight circles. So a good youngster has bright prospects. They claim that Henry is only 21, which would make him 15 at Pearl Harbor, rather difficult to absorb.

But even if you tacked on a couple of years he still has lots of time—an item which such as Louis and Walcott haven't!

Victor of Driscollwood, a Doberman Pinscher owned by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick F. Driscoll of Lisbon rd., won the best-of-breed prize in the All-Breed show Sunday in Akron.

It won the best-of-breed and was second in the working group in the All-Breed show Friday and Saturday in Pittsburgh.

He also carries another honor having been winner dog at the specialty show held by the Doberman Pinscher club of America last November in Chicago.

HAVE VERBAL ROW OVER RACING CAR WHICH KILLED MAN

One Driver Claims Cars Are Not Fit To Race, Quits Novi Team

(By United Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 18—Officials of the Indianapolis speedway said today that the racing car in which Ralph Hepburn crashed to his death Sunday met all specifications before it was allowed on the track.

They said that as far as the speedway was concerned, the crash was "a closed incident."

Cliff Bergere, a veteran driver, charged yesterday that the death car, a Novi special owned by Lou Welsh of Novi, Mich., was faulty.

He said Novi's other racer which has been entered in the 500-mile Memorial day race was a twin of the one in which Hepburn was killed and was equally "wrong."

"I don't think the Novi cars should be allowed to run," he said. Bergere had a smashup Friday in the race which Hepburn drove on the death run. He escaped injury, but resigned from the Novi team.

Welch denied all Bergere's accusations. He demanded that Bergere present proof of his claims.

Speedway officials said that both cars met all specifications of the American Automobile Association before they were allowed on the track for warmup runs.

Both Bergere and Welch spoke "out of turn," they said.

"Duke Nalon will attempt to qualify the remaining Novi special Saturday," one official said. "If he succeeds, the Novi will run May 31st."

Nalon was assigned to the Novi when Chet Miller resigned after Hepburn's death. The racer which crashed was destroyed.

Constitutionality Test Due On Taft Labor Law, CIO Says

BOSTON, May 18—A test of the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley act's non-Communist pledge requirement appeared headed for the courts today.

The CIO's biggest union—the Steelworkers—continued their 10 months holdout against the requirement in the face of a deadline set for its officers to file the affidavits in a major case.

The Steelworkers 41-man executive board by-passed the question in a closed meeting yesterday after President Philip Murray announced his union was "proceeding with the trial of the Inland steel case."

Inland steel has been ordered by the National Labor Relations board to bargain with the Steelworkers on pensions if the union's officers complied with the Taft-Hartley act's requirement and filed non-Communist affidavits by today.

The union's executive board was handed the question by nearly 3,200 convention delegates last week after Murray urged a court test of the constitutionality of the law. The board is not scheduled to meet again until next month.

Union Counsel Arthur Goldberg said that the Inland case could not be used as a test if the union complied with the law.

Murray, who also heads the national CIO, has called his refusal to sign an affidavit "a matter of principle."

The union's stand directly involves the pay envelopes of 928,000 Steelworker members.

Murray told the convention that the nation's major basic steel companies have notified him that they do not intend to negotiate new wage agreements when present contracts expire unless non-Communist affidavits are signed.

Most of the Union's 1,583 contracts are two-year agreements with no-strike clauses which run until April 30, 1949.

Dr. Chaim Weizman Heads Jewish State

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 17—Zion's senior statesman, Dr. Chaim Weizman, 73, became provisional president of the new state of Israel today.

He was elected president of the 37-member council of government last night, which makes him, in effect, Israel's chief executive. David Ben-Gurion, Israel's prime minister, supported Dr. Weizman.

All members of the new government except one are Palestinians, who automatically became citizens of Israel upon formation of the new state. The exception is Dr. Weizman, a British subject. It is presumed here he will change his citizenship, if he accepts his new post.

The leader of the world's newest state is now under the care of a physician in New York City. The nature of his illness has not been disclosed.

Dr. Weizman, one of the outstanding figures in world Jewry, is credited with having played one of the major roles in the establishment of the new Jewish state, having fought nearly all his life for Zion.

Questions, Answers

Q—Who invented the sewing machine?

A—No one man invented the sewing machine. The first really successful machine was the invention of an American, Elias Howe. He patented it in 1846.

Q—What are the three highest awards given to men in the armed services?

A—Congressional Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross and Distinguished Service Medal.

Q—Why has the Venus de Milo no arms?

A—It is generally believed by art authorities that the famous statue had arms, but they were broken off before it was discovered. The position of the arms has been the subject of endless discussion.

Q—Is Mexico included in Central America?

A—No, geographically it is part of North America.

Materials and Manpower Woes Hit Auto Industry

BY DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Automotive Editor
DETROIT, May 18—Materials and manpower troubles plagued the car industry this week and again held down vehicle production.

Biggest blow to the industry's effort to get back into high volume output was the CIO United Auto Workers' strike in Chrysler car and truck factories. At the same time materials shortages limited assemblies in other plants throughout the country.

The trade paper automotive news figured this week's output at 51,509 passenger cars and 26,990 trucks. Last week the paper estimated United States production at 51,417 cars and 28,405 trucks. Ward's automotive reports estimated this week's assemblies at 51,630 cars and 26,825 trucks compared with 51,279 cars and 28,506 trucks in the preceding week.

Got One Day In

Chrysler got in a single day's production before its hourly rated workers left their jobs on Wednesday. Its Plymouth division, closed for more than a week because of materials troubles, reopened on Tuesday. Similarly, Chrysler's Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler divisions, down on Monday while stockpiles were being rebuilt, got some production Tuesday before its workers walked out.

Meanwhile Ford managed to step up its new model output and General Motors with Chevrolet back after a week's shutdown, contributed substantially to the week's assemblies. General Motors' Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac branches outside of Michigan were closed this week, but are scheduled to reopen next Monday.

With the resumption of these branch plants GM will have all its car and truck units back in operation. The series of one-week layoffs spread over nearly a month are estimated to have cost some 200,000 workers more than $12,000,000 in wages. GM probably lost more than 35,000 units of production.

The car makers continue to take a somewhat mixed view of their materials outlook. Some manufacturers look for a sizeable improvement in sheet steel receipts during the latter half of the year. There are just as many, however, who say there is nothing in the sheet steel prospect right now to justify any expectation of a record-breaking passenger car output from July to December.

Ford with production down for more than a month during the model change-over, has been able to build up a substantial sheet steel stockpile. If enough steel becomes available it can greatly increase production between now and the year end.

Stops Supply Houses

The strike forced Chrysler to issue stop orders on deliveries by its vendors. However, it took steps to see that it lost none of the materials thus held up.

A lot of steel and other materials poured into the various General Motors foundries and body-making plants during their one-week shutdowns. How heavy these receipts were will be disclosed when the production of cars and trucks in the various GM factories is tallied up for next week.

With the possible exception of one or two smaller-volume producers the entire car industry is operating at considerably below capacity. This goes for both Ford and GM and also for the volume Chrysler reached before the strike.

With adequate supplies of sheet steel the car factories could yet step up production to the level needed to bring the year's total above the 4,800,000 unit output of 1947. Those industry executives who still cling to this hope say several steel using industries are beginning to catch up with their unfilled orders.

It may develop also, that European relief will not take nearly as much sheet steel as has been indicated.
